

QBI Fireside Chat : Scientific Collaborations accros borders

The Quantitative Biosciences Institute (QBI) at UCSF is presenting “Scientific Collaborations Across Borders,” a QBI Fireside Chat’ on May 26th at 11AM PT, co-organized by the Embassy of France in San Francisco. This live virtual “fireside chat” will feature Nevan Krogan of QBI, Marco Vignuzzi of Institut Pasteur, and will be moderated by Héloïse Pajot of the Embassy of France in San Francisco. The live conversation will focus on Pasteur’s collaborative research with the QBI Coronavirus Research Group (QCRG). We will highlight the challenges and solutions for conducting international scientific collaboration, especially amid the pandemic. This will be the first of the recurring series to emphasize the importance of scientific cooperation across borders.

Watch Live on YouTube:

Moderator:

Héloïse Pajot, Deputy Attaché for Science and Technology, Embassy of France in San Francisco

Guests:

Nevan Krogan, Director of QBI, University of California San Francisco

Marco Vignuzzi, Principal Investigator, Department of Virology, Institut Pasteur

